CHANGE IN U. S. BANK OPPOSED

Farm Bureau Adopts Resolutions Against Elimination of Federal Reserve Branches In Favor of Centralized Institution

Bankers Divided on Question, but for the Most Part Go on Record In Favor of Retention of the Present Reserve System

Nearly 300 men of Allen-co, members of the Farm Bureau, in session Wednesday afternoon at Memorial Hall, unequivocally and unalterably placed themselves on record as opposed to any change being made in the plan of the federal reserve banking system of the United States and the placing of the control of the country's finances in a centralized bank, instead of in the hands of a federal reserve board. In resolutions adopted, the farm bureau members expressed the opinion that such a plan would result in the breaking up of branch banks over the country.

Resolutions adopted, after a discussion of the plan of the proposed elimination of the federal reserve banks in favor of a centralized United States bank, urged that the Ohio farm bureau association take up this matter and exert every effort to see that the Federal Bank system now in vogue, remains unchanged.

The resolution, framed by Howard H. Ray, was unanimously adopted by the assembly, on motion by Thomas Smith and seconded by J. O. Montague.

LEADERS ARE DIVIDED
Leaders of the city when queried regarding the latest proposal affecting the banking system of the country, were divided in their opinions, but for the most part opposed any change.

MR. TOLAN: Lima Trust Co. — "I am not a member of the Federal Reserve system, but it has our moral support. Personally, I think it would be a wise thing to do, as the banking system has demonstrated its value, in times of crisis, such as the present."

MR. HARRIS: Cashier of the Commercial Bank: "If it doesn't change the present workings of the system, I can see no reason to feel that it is a good plan to establish a centralized bank. Instead of having a central reserve board, which would be made to the Central Reserve Bank, it would result in a complete change of the banking system of the country, which we are located in."

MR. CUNNINGHAM: Cashier of the National Bank: "I do not believe it would be wise to establish a centralized bank. I cannot see where the amount of injury would be done, from what I know of the system."

MR. NITCHELL: Cashier of the Bank: "We are not a member of the system, but are interested in it. I believe that the plan proposed would destroy the function of the federal reserve banks, and the establishment of a centralized bank, as proposed, would result in a complete change of the banking system of the country, which we are located in."

MR. SPEN: President of the National Bank of Chicago, has endorsed the proposed plan to establish a centralized bank of the United States, and the plan of the present system of 12 federal reserve banks.

From the bankers of Cleveland have expressed their opposition to the elimination of the federal reserve banks in favor of a centralized bank.

J. R. Natt, president of the Union Trust Company, said that the present system is performing "a very good service to the country and we should go slow in making changes."

There are no defects in the federal reserve system, in the opinion of J. A. House, president of the Guardian Trust and Safe Deposit Company. One of the worst points in history would be the worst point in history today, if it were not for the existence of the federal reserve system.

Warren S. Stine, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Bank, said that the system is satisfactory, he added, and should not be changed.

Other bankers in Cleveland are of the same opinion.

Kansas City bankers disapproved the proposed to establish a centralized bank to replace the 12 federal reserve banks.

F. P. Steiner, president of the First National Bank here, said the proposed plan is "a very good thing."

John A. Moore, president of the Fidelity National Bank and Trust Co. here, said that while he believed in the present system, he would not be taken at a time when the monetary situation is so critical.

Governor J. Z. Miller, Jr., of the state, said that he was given an opportunity to revise the federal reserve bank bill, but did not believe he could improve on them.

U. S. MAY ADMIT O'CALLAGHAN

Washington to Decide on Cork Mayor's Entrance

HAS STARTLING DATA, CLAIM

Brings Affidavit to Submit to Committee

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. — (By Associated Press.) — Although it was possible the reported conflicting views of local immigration authorities might result in delay, friends of Daniel O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived here Tuesday as a stowaway on the American steamship West Cannon, were hopeful that today would bring a decision from Washington granting him admission to this country.

L. R. Parker, local immigration inspector, yesterday entered a formal order for the exclusion of the Irish chief of the district, with headquarters at Norfolk, was said to have recommended that O'Callaghan be permitted to enter. Even if the lord mayor is admissible under the immigration laws, it was said, the case would have to be referred to the state department for a decision, as O'Callaghan was without a passport.

HAN AFFIDAVITS
The Cork mayor still declined to discuss his presence in the United States, but Peter MacSwiney, brother of the late Terence MacSwiney, who accompanied him here on the West Cannon, said they had "some startling revelations" to make before the committee of the commission of one hundred which is investigating the Irish situation.

O'Callaghan is said to have some important affidavits that will be submitted to the committee. The British authorities, it was said, sought to obtain these papers but several raids proved futile.

CARRIES HISTORIC CHAIN
Today there hung around the neck of Lord Mayor O'Callaghan the heavy gold chain which is said to have been worn by Lord Mayor of Cork during the past 600 years, according to Peter MacSwiney, the brother until the election of O'Callaghan.

Upon his arrest and imprisonment the late lord mayor was said by his brother to have turned over to the British authorities all of his possessions except the historic chain. That, he declared, he would keep as long as life remained in him. The chain, made of heavy plain links, is worn around the neck and caught up from the waist to a fastening on the waist coat.

DE VALERA UNDER STRONG GUARD

Irish "President" May be Put to Death, Fear

NEW OUTBREAK EXPECTED

Special Writer Describes Situation in Ireland

The United Press sent Charles M. McManus to Ireland as a reporter to see what was going on there and tell American newspaper readers about it without color or bias, or favor to either side. All sorts of rumors and reports are coming out of Ireland. McManus' object is to get behind the rumors and reach an agreement from the real attitude of the people toward peace and the way they are living in this period of civil war.

(BY CHARLES M. MCANUS.)
DUBLIN — Peace in Ireland on the basis of the new home rule act was regarded as a certainty here Thursday.

Only the most radical believe the fight can go on indefinitely with the "Irish republic" finally winning complete freedom. The peace which is expected, however, probably will not come until there has been another outbreak of violence and Dublin has been put under martial law, according to my observations here.

Eamon De Valera, the returned "president," is a big factor in the situation. A statement from him is expected hourly. It is believed the message will advocate peace and the operation of Irish government under the home rule act.

DE VALERA'S GUARDED
De Valera's presence in Ireland is admitted and evidence is increasing that the government will treat with him as representing the Dail Eireann. Despite a belief that he will be well received by the government, his hiding place is carefully guarded. It was feared he would be jailed, perhaps put to death by enthusiastic captors, if he were found before negotiations are begun.

It is believed that he will urge peace and Sinn Feinists to agree to the government's home rule act, electing a Sinn Fein parliament for the south of Ireland, rather than permitting Unionists to organize in the north.

ROVENS BURNED
At Meelin, near Cork, soldiers burned four houses as punishment for an ambush at Townmarket. Shots were said to have been fired from the houses destroyed by military order.

Cadet Hart, accused of the murder of a aged priest, Canon Magner, at Dunmore, was expected to be pronounced insane at the conclusion of the trial. Medical testimony was divided.

Pending the development of peace or further violence, Dublin is living in nervous expectancy. Visitors arriving here, expect to find the streets swarming with heavily armed soldiers, with restlessness and fearfully creeping about the streets.

TRIAL DATE FIXED
Judge McGannon to Again Face Court January 31

CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press.) — The second trial of Judge William H. McGannon on a second degree murder trial for the slaying of Harold C. Kay, at May 8, last, will commence on Monday, January 31, it was announced today by County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton.

The jury in the first trial, charged after being out 48 hours.

The date was agreed upon by the prosecutor Stanton and Attorney W. H. Boyd, chief counsel for McGannon. Stanton declared he had been unable to find the records of the chief jurist's first trial in his office, but that he would be ready to proceed with the new trial by the end of the month.

"I have been unable to find a single record of the case, but I will begin an entire new investigation of the murder myself this week," the prosecutor declared.

MATE SLAIN BY LOVER, CHARGE

Widow of George Nott Testifies Against E. B. Wade

DENIES KILLING HUSBAND

Another Witness Says She Helped Plan Crime

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. — (By United Press.) — The state today practically completed presentation of its case in the trial of Elwood B. Wade, charged with the murder of George Nott, who was killed in his home in the presence of his wife and two children, August 19.

Homer S. Cummings, state attorney, fired the prosecution's big gun, when he placed the widow, Mrs. Ethel Hutchins Nott, on the stand. She testified less than an hour and several times was on the verge of collapsing, but in that time she placed the entire responsibility of the murder upon Wade, her acknowledged lover.

She refuted a written confession by Wade, in which he declared Mrs. Nott killed her husband in self-defense and even asserted that during the fight in the Nott home, she was injured while trying to separate Wade and Nott.

John Edward Johnston, a pal of Wade and jointly charged with the latter and Mrs. Nott, followed her on the stand and while declaring that Wade killed Nott, testified that the widow helped to plan the crime and acquiesced in its execution.

There was some speculation today as to whether Cummings would call upon the children, Ruth 13, and George, Jr. 11, to testify for the state.

Under orders either of Wade or their mother—each of the latter, accuses the other on this point—they played jazz music on a mechanical piano to drown the noise of the fighting between Wade and their father and the latter's cries. The children would be expected to clear up this incident.

ALVIN COOLIDGE PRIVATE CITIZEN

Successor in Office As Governor Inaugurated

BOSTON, Mass. — (By Associated Press.) — Channing H. Cox was today inaugurated as the forty-ninth governor of Massachusetts amid traditional scenes of ceremonial brilliancy.

Vice President-elect Alvin Coolidge, his predecessor, after relinquishing office left the state house without escort, once more a private citizen for the few weeks that remain before his inauguration at Washington.

The vice president-elect made no announcement as to his plans. It is expected that he will spend most of his time at his home in Northampton, where problems confronting the incoming administration will receive his consideration.

The Ponzi quick rich scheme was recalled by Governor Cox in his inaugural when he urged protection of small investors as one of the most urgent problems before the commonwealth.

"The most effective way to discourage thrift and to retard the accumulation of capital is to permit fraudulent promoters to rob the people of their savings," he said.

The governor declared that worthless or fraudulent securities amounting to at least $20,000,000 are sold annually in Massachusetts.

"The most effective way to discourage thrift and to retard the accumulation of capital is to permit fraudulent promoters to rob the people of their savings," he said.

HEAD OF WELFARE COUNCIL NAMED

Walter Parmenter Chosen—Plan More Community Centers

Walter Parmenter was elected chairman of the Welfare Recreation Council at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Several important matters were discussed, and preliminary action toward carrying them out successfully was taken.

S. C. Heide, industrial secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was appointed to select quarters for the establishment of two more community centers; one for the northeast section of Lima, and the other for the northwest section.

Two community centers are already maintained; one at the Lincoln Park engine house on the east side and the other at No. 6 engine house on the north side.

Elmer McCallin, service director, asked the council its opinion of the purchase of a pair of buffalo for the city park. The council favored the idea and agreed to purchase a pair of buffalo.

It was announced at the meeting that the Y. M. C. A. intends to furnish a room for the welfare league, in promoting athletics, games, and social work.

A committee was named to select a location near Main and Fourth streets in Lima for the establishment of a community center.

RUN STARTED ON KENTUCKY BANK

Depositors Are Frightened Over Tobacco Situation

LEXINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Frightened by rumors that the Board of Directors of Lexington, an institution with a capital stock of $200,000, was overstocked with tobacco notes and money, depositors started a run on that institution this morning.

A crowd of several hundred persons was in front of the bank at noon and before they were paying out money as fast as the bank could issue checks.

Where the rumor originated, no one seems to know and Cashier F. G. Sykes at noon issued a statement saying that all paper held by the bank was amply secured by bonds and other property. He also gave out a statement signed by a Lexington clearing house committee which said that the committee had examined the books of the bank and found it to be solvent in every way.

A large amount of cash was sent to the bank this morning by other institutions of the city.

SEWER BIDS MAY BE TOO HIGH

Believed Offers for Local Contracts Exceed Estimates

So far as could be determined before a thorough tabulation of bids could be completed, it was apparent Wednesday that the figures for the most part at least presented at the noon hour by a dozen or more sewer contracting firms for the construction of more than a quarter million dollars worth of sewer work in Lima affecting numerous streets, are above the estimates submitted by the city engineer.

Tabulation of the bids will require from 21 to 48 hours, City Engineer Vaughn Miller said, after which the figures will be submitted to the board of control, for action by that body. It may be, City Auditor Rupert stated, that it will be necessary to re-evaluate the work, if the prices submitted are found to be too high.

For the sewer project, estimated by the engineer to cost $177,620, bids were presented by Whiting, Turner, Court & Co., Baltimore, Md.; John W. Farley, Chicago; The Kavanaugh-Deinro Construction Co., Youngstown.

Central-ave lateral sewers, estimated at $52,430, brought bids from J. Irvin & Son, Greenville, Pa.; The Kavanaugh-Deinro Construction Co., Youngstown.

Lakeview-ave district and West and Forest-lateral relief, estimated at $40,550, brought only one bid, from W. J. Irvin & Son, Greenville.

Central-lateral relief sewer, estimated at $43,840, two bids, W. J. Irvin & Son, Greenville; J. F. Cole, Lima.

Lateral relief for the Askins sewer, estimated at $17,725, brought three bids, from Summers & Harding, Lima; Frohase, Lima; W. J. Irvin & Son, Greenville.

HERDS OF BUFFALO ON INCREASE

Far From Extinction in U. S. Latest Census Shows

WASHINGTON — The American Bison, or buffalo, famed in history as a real American product, is far from extinction. This encouraging news comes from the American Bison Society, whose figures show that in January, 1920, there were 2,252 wild and tame buffalos in the United States.

Of the nine Government-owned herds, two of the largest under the care of the United States Department of Agriculture are located in the Wichita National Game Preserve, Oklahoma, and on the national bison range at Bison, Mont., the department announced today.

The herd in the Wichita preserve now numbers 15, including 28 calves in 1929. In this herd 1 bulls and 12 cows are ten years of age or over, and one cow is twenty-nine years old. The 15 animals that constituted the original Wichita herd came from the New York Zoological Park.

In accordance with the provisions made in the 1919 appropriation bill for their care, it is planned to distribute some of the surplus bison in the Government herds. Public parks and municipalities are the largest patrons. By distributing the animals over the country if disease and misfortune overtake the main herds there still will be stock left with which groups could be built up.

The buffalo in the United States have increased about 200 percent in twelve years. In 1908 there were 1,116 wild and tame buffalo in this country, at the beginning of 1920 there were 2,252. Canada has a larger number—5,000. This is due to the fact that several years ago the U. S. herd in Montana belonging to Michael Egan, a half-breed Indian, was for sale. The Canadian Government bought the animals, and since that time they have been exhibited by Americans at their time to make it possible to retain them in this country. The total number of wild and tame buffalo on the North American continent at present is probably more than 2,000 head, the Department of Agriculture says.

FRANCE 'INFESTED' WITH ALIENS

Paris Now Seeks Means of Deporting Undesirables

PARIS — Energetic measures are to be taken here to round up all undesirable foreigners who since the war have invaded France. Police services are to be completely reorganized and any foreigner found whose status is not reglementary to the customs of France will be deported immediately.

Figures published recently show that there are in Paris some 300,000 foreigners. In this number are included 1,800 Germans, 23,000 Americans, 4,000 Argentines, 2,000 Armenians, 25,000 Britishers, 12,000 Spaniards, 29,000 Italians, 7,000 Luxemburgers, 27,000 Swiss, 800 Austrians, 800 Chinese, 2,000 Bulgarians, 1,500 Danes, 4,000 Hollanders, 6,000 Greeks, 1,100 Syrians, 22,000 Russians, 10,000 Rumanians and 2,000 Czechs.

These figures represent but those who have registered with the French police. They do not include tourists, added, however, to this large number are thousands of others who live in the city. Most of them have had to flee their own country and are wanted by the police. Others are voluntarily exiles from their home country.

COLONIES OF FOREIGNERS

In certain parts of Paris veritable colonies exist where French is hardly ever spoken, where there are managed by foreigners, where even the newspapers are printed in foreign languages. One such colony exists in the Latin quarter around the rue des Rosiers, where hundreds of Russian and Polish live. Other foreigners and even Parisians passing thru these districts are considered strangers, and rebuffed, sometimes attacked.

Steps were once taken to arrest and deport these foreigners, but in most cases French laws were found inapplicable. Some have been deported out of the country. They were usually accompanied to the Belgian frontier and left there. The Belgian authorities in their turn found most of these people undesirable and France. Now arrangements will be made whereby they will be sent across Germany to that country's eastern frontiers. No difficulty is encountered in the case of Spaniards, Italians, Swiss, etc., and they are usually left at their respective frontiers and rarely find their way back into France.

WAR VETERAN GETS THREE-YEAR SENTENCE

KANSAS CITY — "Shell shock" which explains many vagaries is not an excuse for taking an $800 diamond stud. Judge Latshaw ruled in Criminal Court. He sentenced Ernest Kinney, twenty years old, of 1766 Wash-ave., to three years in the State penitentiary.

"If I took the stud I don't remember it," said Kinney. "I was shell shocked in the war and do many strange things in times of memory."

A. R. Taylor, who lives on the Van Horn road, near Independence, Mo., said that Kinney took the diamond while a dinner guest at Taylor's home. The police say Kinney later pawned it for $50.

AUTO LICENSE PLATES MOVE SLOWLY; THOMPSON IS LIMA DISTRIBUTOR

Only about one-third of the auto-ists of Allen-co have secured their 1921 license tags, according to Clem Thompson, proprietor of Thompson's garage, who is distributing the tags this year.

A few weeks ago it was announced that tags for members of the Lima Auto club would be supplied thru Herrett's tire service station, S. Elizabeth-st.

Thru a misunderstanding, Secretary of State Smith denied this privilege to the local club and all auto-ists, irrespective of club affiliations, must obtain their 1921 plates thru Thompson.

Thompson had planned to accommodate members of the auto club by laying a series of numbers aside for their use but upon so few applications being made for the special series, he abandoned the plan, he says, and all auto-ists will have a chance at securing any of the tags in his possession for distribution.

At present only 3,000 plates have been distributed, while it is expected that eight or nine thousand will be needed by Allen-co auto owners. They are slow to respond, Thompson said.

License prices for pleasure cars range from $8 to $12.

Elderly People Need This In Medicine Chest

To relieve chronic constipation, always keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin handy.

NEARLY all people as they advance in age suffer from chronic constipation. Many, however, are indifferent to the laxative they use, on the theory that "they are all alike." That is a great mistake.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for example, is a mild, gentle liquid laxative, and it does not lose its effect with repeated use. It so trains the bowel muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

A sixty-cent bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last many months. The prescription was written thirty years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, a well-known family doctor, who is himself now in his 82nd year and can appreciate what chronic constipation must mean to elderly people; how it brings on headaches, colds, loss of appetite and sleep, heaviness and a general dull feeling.

Every home that has an elderly man or woman should be provided with a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year. It is a truly wonderful constipation remedy.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monmouth, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

arm Bureau Members Condemn Nolan Tax Measure

Services of L. S. Van Natta, county farm agent, were commended and was pledged assistance of the entire Allen county farm bureau of more than 850 members at the annual meeting held Wednesday.

In discussion of conditions in general, farmers declared they would leave no stone unturned to fight the re-appraisal of land at this time, when they claimed values were fluctuating.

Representatives will be sent to a meeting of farm agents at Columbus in January, at which time steps will be taken to map out such matters as the farmers desire legislation on, with legislators.

Resolutions adopted at the annual meeting have been forwarded to state representatives and senator and to national representatives and senator.

Resolutions adopted were as follows: "On account of the unsettled condition of affairs in general and the fluctuating value placed upon lands by speculators, we are opposed to revaluation of farm property at this time and urge upon the tax commission of Ohio to withdraw this revaluation."

"That we deem it normally wrong and highly detrimental to the interest of agriculture and the consumer to permit the practice now in vogue of selling grain, cotton and other products which the seller or principal does not own at the time of sale. This practice is commonly known as 'short selling'."

"That we co-operate with the National and State Farm Bureaus in urging the Kenyon-Kendrick Bill, The Wadsworth-Con Bill, the Capper-Herman Volstead Act and the Truth Fabrica Bill. That we condemn the Nolan Bill as being an unjust tax measure and urge upon our Congressmen and Senators to vote against it."

"We declare that the farmer is entitled to compensation for his service equal to actual cost of efficient production and a reasonable return upon his capital invested, and we pledge our efforts to bring about these results."

TWO PARLIAMENTS FOR IRELAND

Chief Secretary for Country Makes This Prediction

LONDON — (By United Press) — Two Irish parliaments will govern Ireland within six months, Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, predicted today in an interview with the United Press.

So confident is Greenwood of final success for the newly made home rule bill, that he asserted future generations of Irish will think of him as a benefactor, not as the hated sponsor of the feared Black and Tan police. "Anyone who reads the home rule act will see that it grants wider powers of self-government than those enjoyed by the several states of the United States," he declared. "I consider placing the act in the hands of the people as one of the greatest in the history of Great Britain."

Sir Hamar regards himself as a liberal toward the Irish and is proud of his ancestor who was hanged and quartered as a rebel. His entire family, he said, has produced fighters for the liberal side of all great questions.

"Seven centuries of troubles in Ireland will be ended with the successful inauguration of the home rule bill," Sir Hamar declared.

HIGH STUDENTS TO SEE LIFE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN IN FILM STORY

Chaplin's "Abraham Lincoln," an eighteen reel picture, will be presented at the Central High school auditorium in serial form, six reels a day for five days, on February 1st, 5th and 12th.

This is the biggest and best picture that has been presented at the high school. It is noted for its many incidents that are true to the life of the great man. It is a story of Lincoln's life and is both interesting and educational.

The high school students are beginning to realize the greatness of Lincoln and the picture is expected to attract considerable attention among the students.

The daily noon hour films, the scientific films and the semi-monthly shows being presented at the high school are making a big hit with the students. Principal R. E. Oberbauer is well pleased with the results of the shows and is expected to continue them.

The Science club has found the different scientific films that have been presented to be invaluable. A scenic film and a comedy will also be shown.

SURVEYORS HOLD CONFERENCE

U. W. O. Engineers to Recommend Changes in Ditch Laws

Fifty engineers, members of the Northwest Ohio Surveyors' association, met in Lima Wednesday, at the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of recommending changes in the new state ditch laws.

Changes of a drastic character were discussed, but at the close of the conference only a few minor suggestions were decided upon. These will be laid before the legislature by a committee named by President Frank Blue of Defiance.

Blue gave a brief talk at the opening of the session Wednesday, reporting on the meeting of the Ohio Technical society, December 18, which will ask the legislature to enact a law providing for the registration of engineers, the same as attorneys and physicians.

At the noon hour the visitors were entertained at the Lyric theatre, where comedy films were shown. They were guests of the Lima chapter of the American association of engineers. Luncheon was served at the Lyric hotel.

L. H. Wisner, Fremont, is the secretary of the surveyors' organization. Walter Toy, Vaughn Miller and Charles Roberts composed the local committee on entertainment.

The next meeting, time and place, is subject to the call of the president and secretary. The annual meeting is held in Findlay in November of each year.

A WOMAN FOR THE POSTOFFICE

INDICATIONS are that the women of Allen-co affiliated with the Republican party are setting out to share the spoils of the victors and will insist that one of their sex be recommended for the juiciest plum of them all—the Lima postoffice.

Why not? They did their share in the last election, furnishing a mighty force to place the standards of the G. O. P. high and dry and put the old organization back in power. They have been given equal rights with men and, having such, should be recognized by the political bosses who will make the recommendation to the new president.

For our part, we would like to see a woman given the job. It would be an honor to the new class of voters and would give them a chance to prove their arguments that they are as capable of handling governmental business as men, and at the same time would allow the politicians to pay their debt of gratitude.

If the women really go after the recommendation the men who handle the affairs will not be able with very good grace to turn them down. If the women want to get their fingers in the pie, now is the time for them to start for their party certainly owes them something.

CUBA BECOMING CARELESS

WHEN, some 20 years ago, Uncle Sam went to the aid of Cuba as she was being ground by Spanish oppression, when Butcher Weyler caused a thrill of horror to permeate the earth as he herded the Cubans into reconcentrado camps where those who were not slaughtered died like flies from exposure and hunger and disease, the people of the little island eagerly embraced the opportunity to set up a republic, similar to that of the United States, under the protecting wing of Uncle Sam.

For two decades the feeling of gratitude of Cuba for her deliverer held full sway and when America entered the world war, Cuba promptly also threw down the gauntlet of battle, pledging her aid in men and material and money to the cause of the United States. America applauded and Americans felt an indefinable something rise up in their hearts as they realized that this was the finest type of gratitude shown by the island republic.

There were no strings tied to the men and treasure that flowed for Cuba's emancipation from Spain. Little Cuba failed to profit by its experience. For a time it heeded fatherly advice. Then it forgot and like a wilful child did forbidden things. The Cuban presidential election is unsettled. The island has a financial crisis. The moratorium has been extended another month and for the third time the government is about to fail. But the United States will see to it that this doesn't happen.

With instructions to talk turkey to the officials of Cuba, President Wilson has sent Judge Advocate General E. H. Crowder to Havana to confer with President Menocal. If the political and financial conditions cannot be stabilized by peaceful means, it is likely that more complete measures will be taken. If Cuba fails to govern itself properly, Uncle Sam must again show the way, even if intervention is necessary. The Cubans have not proven that they are able to govern themselves.

CHINA'S PLIGHT

WHEN propaganda is prepared in aid of relief funds, doubtless the idea is to paint a picture so dismal and so heart-rending as to induce generous living. That sort of thing is necessary to open the purse strings of many, while with others, the mere announcement that aid is needed, impels prompt action.

Reading a statement issued by the American committee for the China famine fund, which contains cables and surveys from many sources that visualize China's famine conditions, one is forced to the conclusion that if one-half what is told is true, indeed there is need for quick action in the work of relief. And the same is true of the picture painted by the Near East relief commission.

The famine area in China extends from the Yellow river northward thru northwestern Shantung and southern Chihli, practically all the way to Tientsin, also including a part of the Shansi province. Crops are a failure and people are picking and eating elm and apricot leaves. Actual starvation for many during the next five months is predicted. Whether life is saved depends upon whether help reaches the people from the outside, is the message.

Children are being deserted and many sold by their parents, for as low as 20 cents each, while others, rather than part with their offspring or see them die a lingering death from starvation, drown them in the Yellow river, known as "China's Sorrow."

In the fact of the terrible stories that come to us from China and from stricken portions of Europe, where helpless babes die in countless thousands, we in this land of plenty are often prone to bemoan our lot. The poorest of us, compared with millions in other parts of the earth, are rich. We are well fed while they starve. We are warmly clad and comfortable while they freeze. And still we complain bitterly at times.

PREVENTING CRIME

BUSINESS men, members of a civic organization, were dumfounded Tuesday at the frank, plain story told them by a former crook a man who had stolen thousands and thousands of dollars from his fellow man before he reformed. They heard this man tell how thieves work; why crime is growing and they were told straight to their faces that business men are making thieves by carelessness.

This man followed the thug game more than 20 years in four different countries. He knew the fine points and one of his principal statements was that newspapers are the greatest force in keeping down crime. He explained this by saying that professional thieves headed for a city read the papers of that city and if a crime wave already exists they steer clear of it for they know the police will be on their toes. Publicity is the greatest factor in keeping them away, he said.

This is in contradiction to the theories of most police departments. It is the rule to "cover up" as much crime as possible, but it would appear that the guardians of our lives and property would do well to take a lesson from a man who was as expert in lawlessness as they are in catching outlaws.

USELESS PROCEDURE

DECLARING that enforcement of the national prohibition amendment is a joke, a congressman has introduced a resolution asking for a Congressional probe. He believes that something can be accomplished to get better results.

The congressman must be a new member or at least not familiar with the history of such investigations. Everyone, most, knows the history of them—much testimony and time-killing, and no results.

He may be right in his contention that enforcement of the law is a joke. In most places it is. In many places there is no enforcement.

The authorities have been given the power to handle any emergency in this respect and need no Congressional action if they do their duty. But if they are not inclined to carry out the laws a dozen such probes would be of no avail.

SHORT INAUGURATION

ANNOUNCEMENT that the inaugural ceremonies when Harry L. Davis takes his office next Monday will be limited to one hour will meet with the approval of the majority of those who will attend. It is the sensible thing to do.

It is to be hoped that the new governor's regime will be characterized by this same spirit and that his motto will be "Make it snappy."

THE RUSH HOUR.

(With apologies to "The 6-15.")
Dona a suit of armor and a shirt of mail,
Crawl into a hole as gloomy as a jail.
With three hundred others stand and wait
While seven hundred more enter thru the gate.

Cars jammed to the window and jammed to the door,
But there's always room for a hundred more.
It's snug and cozy and nice and warm,
Forty seven riders on the back platform.

Then your nose is jammed in a lady's hat;
And they all are knocking just because you're fat.
Twenty-seven men walking on your feet,
And ninety eight more get on at Wayne-st.

You come up twice and you gasp for air,
And your train goes squeaking on to any old where.
You figure that the crowd will soon be gone,
But three get off and forty-six get on.

Then you hurry along, six miles an hour,
While the way is gloomy and the air is sour.
Rattle and jangle and buckle and bang,
It's all familiar music to the rush hour gang.

After being held up at every angle by profiteers,
The average citizen would probably refuse to become executed if confronted by a real holdup artist, armed with a blue barreled gun.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

SOME CASES OF ACID DYSPEPSIA

Dyspepsia, which means indigestion or acid dyspepsia, is a common ailment. It is characterized by a feeling of fullness, bloating, and discomfort after eating. The condition is often caused by a weakness of the stomach's digestive power, which is unable to properly break down the food. This leads to the accumulation of undigested food in the stomach, which then causes the various symptoms associated with the condition.

The question or rejoinder that only too readily occurs to the victim of dyspepsia or indigestion, particularly acid dyspepsia, is: "Well, then, if there is no such thing as dyspepsia, what is it all this time?" Those are the very words hurled at me by a patient who, after a long and painful history of the disease, had been told by a doctor that it was all in his head. I tried to tell him this world is turning, but he said: "I'm not turning, I'm stuck in the mud." I then told him that I had been in the same spot for nearly seventy years and never moved a bit.

For all the speed the earth makes in at least three directions, it is surprising how many people on it never move a bit.

At least two of every three cases of people (stomach, gastric or duodenal) who never come under a physician's observation at all. The victims, living on the same spot for nearly seventy years, are in less than half that time as a rule, are content to call their trouble dyspepsia, indigestion or acid dyspepsia and devote their lives to the absorbing business of gambling with soda, magnesia or some nostrum which depends on such a basis for its effect. They trifle with experiments in dieting. Anything but intelligent medical care. "Acid dyspepsia" from such as ulcer has a way of striking with the victim so long as he continues this reckless gambling.

YOUR NAME

GROSVEAU—By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN. VARIATION—Grosvenor. RACIAL ORIGIN—Norman-French. SOURCE—A sobriquet.

This is one of those family names tracing directly to a Norman-French origin, which are so common in English, yet by no means in the majority.

It belongs to the classification of nicknames or sobriquets, and is a good example of the manner in which such names came into being first as a popular tribute or attribute to the bearer, and later, under the growing influence of the necessity for having more than one name by which to distinguish a man, became finally a hereditary name.

The name comes from two Norman-French words, "gros" and "renard" and it means "about hunter."

No greater compliment could have been paid a man in those days who hunting was a major sport, an enterprise of some danger and considerably more serious than that of modern times except where big game is being sought.

As a family name it is not so widespread as some others, but nevertheless of sufficient importance to deserve mention. There is no doubt that the sobriquet was applied to great many more persons in the Middle Ages than have bequeathed it to their posterity as a family name.

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and this is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

FOES OPEN WAR ON HOOVER

Take Fight to Marion Against His Entering Cabinet

OPPOSED TO BIG LEADERS

Farmers Also Line Up Against Him, Report Says

MARION — (By United Press.)—Powerful political enemies may succeed in keeping Herbert Hoover out of the Harding cabinet, according to information here today.

He has been tentatively slated for a post, probably labor, but activity among his political opponents has recently become so strong as to create a serious doubt in the mind of President-elect Harding about appointing him.

Harding holds the former food administrator in high regard and believes he would be a valuable man in the cabinet.

OPPOSED BY LEADERS

But letters opposing his appointment have been coming into Harding headquarters in great numbers recently. Hoover's appeal in 1918, backing up President Wilson's pleas for election of a Democratic Congress, is cited by many letters as a reason why he should not be given such high political honor now.

More powerful than these letters is the fierce opposition of Senator James Penrose and Senator Hiram Johnson, one an Old Guard leader and the other the foremost of progressives.

Hoover's appointment to the cabinet would in many quarters be construed as an open effort to those two leaders of powerful factions.

FARMERS AGAINST HIM

In addition, there is strong opposition to Hoover from farmers, who are still talking over the price-fixing act of the food administration during the war.

Hoover's answer to this is that it is a commission appointed by the president that fixed the price of wheat.

The opposition, strong as it is, may not be sufficient to deter Harding from choosing a man he personally knows.

Hoover's intimate knowledge of European affairs would make him invaluable to Harding during international negotiations and his services may be utilized on an advisory commission of some kind.

THE MIDDLE TEMPLE MURDER

BY J. S. FLETCHER

As soon as Spargo unfolded the paper he saw what he wanted on the middle page, headed in two lines of big capitals. He lit a cigar and settled down to read.

"Market Millicaster Quarter Sessions"

"Trial of John Maitland"

"The Quarter Sessions for the borough of Market Millicaster were held on Wednesday last, October 2, 1921, in the town hall, before the recorder, Henry John Campenowicz, Esq., K. C. who was accompanied by the bench by the Worshipful the Mayor of Market Millicaster (Alderman Pettiford), the Vicar of Market Millicaster (the Rev. P. B. Clabber), M. A., B. D.; Alderman Dancks, J. P.; Alderman Peters, J. P.; Sir Gerald Racton, J. P.; Colonel Fludgate, J. P.; Captain Murrill, J. P.; and other magistrates and gentlemen. There was a crowded attendance of the public in anticipation of the trial of John Maitland, e-manager of the Market Millicaster bank, and the reserved portions of the court were filled with the elite of the town and neighborhood, including a considerable number of ladies who manifested the greatest interest in the proceedings."

"The recorder, in charging the grand jury, said he regretted that the very pleasant and gratifying experience which had been his upon the occasion of his last two official visits to Market Millicaster—he referred to the fact that on both those occasions his friend, the Worshipful Mavor, had been able to present him with a pair of white gloves—was not to be repeated on the present occasion. It would be their sad and regrettable lot to have before them a fellow-townsmen whose family had for generations occupied a foremost position in the life of the borough. That fellow-townsmen was charged with one of the most serious offenses known to a commercial nation like ours: the offense of embezzling the money of the bank of which he had for many years been the trusted manager, and with which he had been connected all his life since his school days. He understood that the prisoner who would appear before the court on his trial was about to plead guilty, and there would accordingly be no need for him to direct the gentlemen of the grand jury on this matter—what he had to say respecting the gravity and even enormity of the offense he would reserve. The recorder then addressed himself to the grand jury on the merits of two minor cases, which came before the court at a later period of the morning, after which he retired, and having formally returned a true bill against the prisoner, and a petty jury, chosen from well-known burgesses of the town having been duly sworn."

"John Doolittle, aged forty-two, bank manager of the Bank House, High Street, Market Millicaster, was formally charged with embezzling, on April 23, 1921, the sum of £4375 10s 6d, the money of his employers, the Market Millicaster Banking Company Ltd., and converting the same to his own use. The prisoner, who appeared to feel his position most acutely, and who looked very pale and much worn, was represented by Mrs. Charles Doolittle, the well-known barrister of Kingsbury. Mr. Stephens, K. C., appeared on behalf of the prosecution."

"Maitland, upon being charged, pleaded guilty."

"Mr. Stephens, K. C., addressing the Recorder, said that without any desire to unduly press upon the prisoner, who, he ventured to think, had taken a very wise course in pleading guilty to that particular count in the indictment with which he stood charged, he felt bound, in the interest of justice, to set forth to the court some particulars of the defalcations which had arisen thru the prisoner's much lamented dishonesty. He proposed to offer a clear and succinct account of the matter. The prisoner, John Maitland, was the last of an old Market Millicaster family—he was, in fact, he believed with the very last of the race. His father had been manager of the bank before him. Maitland himself had entered the service of the bank at the age of eighteen, when he left the local grammar school; he succeeded his father as manager at the age of thirty-two; he had therefore occupied the highest position of trust for ten years. His directors had the fullest confidence in him; they relied on his honesty and his honor; they gave him discretionary powers such as no bank manager, probably ever enjoyed or held before. In fact, he was so trusted that he was, to all intents and purposes, the Market Millicaster Banking Company, and other words he was allowed full control over everything, and given full license to do what he liked. Whether the directors were wise in extending such liberty to even the most trusted servant, it was not for him (Mr. Stephens) to say; it was some consolation, under the circumstances, to know that the loss would fall upon the directors, in as much as they themselves held nearly the whole of the shares. But he had to speak of the loss—at the serious defalcations which Maitland had committed. The prisoner had wisely pleaded guilty to the first count of the indictment. But there were no less than seventeen counts in the indictment. He had pleaded guilty to embezzling a sum of £4875 odd. But the total amount of the defalcations, comprised in the seventeen counts, was no less—it seemed a most amazing sum!—than £221,573 8s 6d! There was the fact—the banking company had been robbed of over two hundred thousand pounds by a mere accident, the most trifling chance, had revealed to the astounded directors that he was robbing them at all. And the most serious feature of the whole case was that not one penny of this money had been, or ever could be, recovered. He believed that the prisoner's learned counsel was about to urge upon the Court that the prisoner himself had been tricked and deceived by another man, unfortunately not before the court—a man, he understood, who was now dead, and therefore could not be called, but whether he was so tricked or deceived was too excuse for his clever and wholesale robbing of his employers."

"He had thought it necessary to put these facts—which would not be denied—before the court, in order that it might be known how heavy the defalcations really had been, and that they should be considered in dealing with the prisoner."

"The Recorder asked if there was no possibility of recovering any part of the vast sum concerned."

"Mr. Stephens replied that they were informed that there was not the remotest chance—the money, it was said by prisoner and those acting on his behalf, had utterly vanished with the theft of the man to whom he had just made reference."

"Mr. Doolittle, on behalf of the prisoner, craved to address a few words to the court in mitigation of sentence. He thanked Mr. Stephens for the considerate and eloquently dispassionate manner in which he had outlined the main facts of the case. He had no desire to minimize the prisoner's guilt. But, on prisoner's behalf, he desired to tell the true story as to how these things came to be. Until as recently as three years previous the prisoner had never made the slightest deviation from the straight path of integrity. Unfortunately for him, and, he believed, for some others in Market Millicaster, there came to the town three years before the present proceedings, a man named Chamberlayne, who commenced business in the High Street as a stock and share broker. A man of good address and the most plausible manners Chamberlayne attracted a good many people—amongst them his unfortunate client. It was a matter of common knowledge that Chamberlayne had induced numerous persons in Market Millicaster to enter into financial transactions with him; it was a matter of common repute that those transactions had not always turned out well for Chamberlayne's clients. Unhappily for himself, Maitland had great faith in Chamberlayne. He had begun to have transactions with him in a large way; they had gone on and on in a large way until he was involved to vast amounts. Believing thoroughly in Chamberlayne and his methods, he had entrusted him with very large sums of money."

"The Recorder interrupted Mr. Doolittle at this point to ask if he was to understand that Mr. Doolittle was referring to the prisoner's own money."

"Mr. Doolittle replied that he was afraid the large sums he referred to were the property of the bank. But the prisoner had such belief in Chamberlayne that he firmly anticipated that all would be well, and that these sums would be repaid, and that vast profit would result from their use."

"The Recorder remarked that he supposed the prisoner intended to put the profit into his own pockets. Mr. Doolittle said at any rate the prisoner assured him that of the two hundred and twenty thousand pounds which was in question, Chamberlayne had the immediate handling of at least two hundred thousand, and he, the prisoner, had not the ghost of a notion as to what Chamberlayne had done with it."

"Unfortunately for everybody, for the bank, for some other people, and especially for his unhappy client Chamberlayne died, very suddenly. Just as these proceedings were instituted, and so far it had been absolutely impossible to trace anything of the money concerned. He had died under mysterious circumstances, and there was just as much mystery about his affairs."

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

KISSES

"Now I know why mother always refused to talk much. About my relatives in New York," said Gwenda with a laugh. "Dear, oh, dear, how funny she must have been afraid of you all. And I can remember way back, when I was small and curious, asking grand-mere why it was that I had no little cousins like the rest of the children in Millersville. I was such a lonely, small creature always," she finished, wistfully. "I used to tell myself that I was born to be that way, and for that reason got more happiness out of my fairy tales than do most children. With their merry brothers and sisters, and their long days of play. My real life began when, once safely in my own little room, I lost myself in the arms of fairy princesses—played and danced with hob-goblins, belted with Subud and his adventures, and climbed the beanstalk with dear Jack, to lose myself in the heights of another world. Those were my wonder hours when a child. Always alone, yet not alone, for I had my fantasy and my world peopled by the fairy-folk I most loved."

"Mother, of course, used to try to stop me from reading. Said it was bad for the eyes, and all nonsense, anyhow. Took my mind off the things she wished me to keep it on. Fern, Fern, Fern, what agony I used to go thru, often I wonder why girls like you and me are put into certain families, anyhow? It seems all wrong."

"Same here," answered her cousin. But there's one thing to be said for the past unhappiness that one goes thru, it does make a girl appreciate her present joys, eh?"

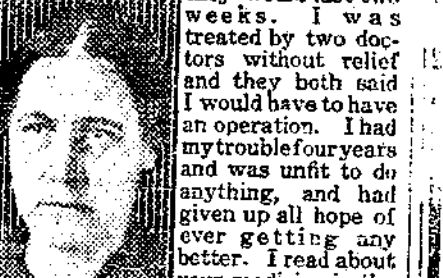

"Appreciate them?" queried Gwenda, with a shudder of delight as she left her dark eyes roam round the studio, and rest lovingly on each and every object so dear to her heart. "That isn't the word. I can my feelings be put into mere cold words, Fern. I want to kiss and kiss and kiss the things I

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble for years and was unfit to do anything, and had given up all hope of getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Miss J. F. Euseby, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex to give this good old fashioned remedy a fair trial.

would respond—one who loved you, even as you most desired—why, then, Fern, dear, one would kiss him, too, and even die for him!" she finished excitedly.

"That is how I feel for Fern," said Fern tensely. "You are lucky to be able to have your peace of mind still. Gwenda and to be content to bestow your kisses on cushions. But you, too, will have your kisses, every woman does. None is spared! Nature's like ours love lightly! Nature's like ours never do, tho. That is our tragedy."

"You envy me my love of inanimate objects, silly girl—while I am busy envying you your love of a real man! We are never satisfied, it seems."

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about 50¢.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too. Children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly breaks the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of sugar, water, nine extracts, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

You can get it in Lima at Hunter's Drug Store.

"GODLESS MEN" EXAMPLE OR SCREEN PERFECTION

Reginald Barker's Story Ranks High Among Those Made by Those Who Know How

Current Movie Directory Includes Plays Which Commend Themselves to Screen Patrons

By ESTHER WAGNER

REGINALD Barker, to my way of thinking, with "Godless Men" takes first place in the ranks of men who know how to produce pictures. For the screen version of this popular novel by Ben Ames Williams is splendidly done and one of the most interesting pictures the screen has put on for some time. Readers of the Red Book vividly remember the story of "Blacy Pawl," the hard old sea captain who hated his Maker and the world in general and had taught his only son to be as bitter as his father before him, to hate men and sneer at women, because of that one woman his mother who had proved faithless. Russell Simpson makes an admirable character study of the vicious old Captain. When it is his fight with the young girl, later turned out to be his daughter, he's just as kind and loving as he can be. Great work by Simpson. Jack Chawick as the girl who won't fight to the tortured soul of her father, is charming; James Mason as Blacy Pawl's evil son, Red Pawl, does his bit remarkably well; John Bowers as the clean young sailor who loves the girl is quite acceptable. Other minor roles are well played. Photography and direction are on the level of one that will keep you in your seat till the last flicker. The best movie approach making of "Godless Men" a picture to be seen not only read about. Recommended.

Architect Sees Building Operations for New Year

Labor in Position to Cooperate With Contractors

"Lima is destined to have a new skyline within the next few years and much of it is already planned," said Architect Peter M. Hulsken, who is to occupy the entire top floor of the new Schoonover building, West of Market-st. Hulsken, while refusing to divulge any of the preliminary sketches on which his plan is now engaged, intimated that a spring would be a half dozen or more business blocks. "Our offices already have more plans and specifications ready for contractors than at any time before the season of the year since before the war," said Hulsken. "Materials are now down to fair levels and labor is showing signs of being perfectly willing to co-operate with the contractors this season."

Other architects seen during the day reiterated the view held by Hulsken, and one big real estate broker stated he knew there were two hundred blocks under consideration, most of which would change the skyline and create a new business zone. The rapid development of the Market-st. is to be continued, according to real estate men, and Elizabeth-st. between Market and North will not be recognized by the old-timer. One church, it is claimed, is to give way to commercial business.

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, and often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kliner's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

FOUND HYPO-COD
IDEAL TONIC TO STRENGTHEN HER

Appetite Returned, Nerves Become Steady and She Felt Much Stronger

DON'T GET TIRED LIKE
SHE DID

"I suffered from a rundown condition. My husband has been sick for a long time with drowsy and heart trouble and taking care of him has been too much for me. I got so I had no ambition or energy to do anything. I just could hardly drag myself around. The least little bit of housework nearly tired me to death. I couldn't eat or sleep. I had become nervous and at times had dreadful headaches," declared Mrs. Otto, whose address is given below.

"I saw Earle's Hypo-Cod advertised and since taking it I have been helped greatly. I feel lots stronger, have more energy and can do more work and do it easier. I don't get tired like I did. I can eat anything and my appetite is fine. My nerves are steadier and I find my sleep rests me more. I truly feel so much better that I tell everyone about Hypo-Cod. It is the greatest remedy I have ever taken and I have used it a good many in my time. I believe it to be a good tonic and revitalizer," continued Mrs. Richard Otto, 7515 Colgate Ave., Cleveland, O.

Frail, thin blooded, nervous women should not permit their system to become so weak. They need a tonic to enrich their blood, give them added weight, strength and vigor, red, rosy cheeks and vitality. Perhaps overwork and worry caused the breakdown like the lady above. If so, simply get a couple bottles of Earle's Hypo-Cod and build yourself up. Come down to the drug store tonight and get a bottle of the genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod that thousands of users say is so good. (Read formula on bottle).

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns.—Adv.
